PERSONAL PROJECTS

Simple Calculator (02/2025)

- Developed a fully functional and interactive calculator web application utilizing HTML, CSS, and JavaScript. The project demonstrates proficiency in front-end web development.
- HTML: Created the basic structure of the calculator with HTML elements (buttons, display area, and container).
- CSS: Applied responsive design principles to ensure the layout is visually appealing and mobile-friendly. Used modern CSS techniques (such as Flexbox) for alignment and design consistency.
- JavaScript: Implemented the core functionality, including arithmetic operations (addition, subtraction, multiplication, division), clear/reset functions, and error handling for invalid inputs. Used event listeners to manage user interactions with buttons and handle calculation logic.

Online Shopping Site - Amazon (10/2024 - 11/2024)

- A Simple web project that replicates the design and functionality of the popular e-commerce website Amazon. Built using HTML and CSS, without any JavaScript or backend code. Demonstrates the basic skills of web development, such as creating layouts, adding styles, and using responsive design.
